Credit Court, to-day brend an opinion in the case of Martin Gallagher attended in Pankee, affirming the decision of Judge the bark Yankee, affirming the decision of Judge form, of the U.S. District Court. The opinion is whose for us to publish to-day. It will be recollec-that the decision below was in favor of Gallagher, of the damages assessed at the sum of $3,000.

Certainly, in a case where it appeared that manisages, or error in law had been committed, it will be the duty of this Court to interfere. The belant was carried off, against his consent, from one and country, and was by that act divested of is means of support, deprived of an office under the smeans of salph gave him a monthly income of 130, and was held falsely imprisoned for upwards a month. All these wrongs traveled with him, the tort feasor during the voyage, and were conmatel by landing him some thousands of miles a hone, amid strangers in a foreign country, with mission at that he was a man unfit to live in a alled country - a hostis humani generis. And all was done by respondent, in violation of "a hr. I therefore cannot say that injustice has in the assessment of damages by the Dis-ic Court. A decree will be drafted, affirming the se of the District Court, and handed to the Judge

THE WAR-CLOUDON CONTINUENTAL EUROPE -France, Austria, Sardinia and Italy, are all engrossing more of John Bull's attention at this moment than is altogether good for his own prospects of settled trade or domestic improvement. The Times has lately been trying hard to preach up peace prospects. The Moniteur has followed suit, giving all sorts of explanations (often very contradictory) in regard to the warlike attitude of France and the manifestoes of the Emperor. The organs of the British government have also tried all sorts of emollients in treating of the aspect of affairs. But all will not avail. More recently, the Times is constrained to admit that its hopes of a peaceful solution are fairly in the state of admit that its hopes of a the Times is constrained to admit that its hopes of a peaceful solution are faint indeed. The French government press finds it up-hill work to put a coloring on the rather dismal look of things in general; and a short clause in the Queen's speech, demanding an addition to our steam navy must see to short the a short clause in the Queen's speech, demanding an addition to our steam navy, must serve to shut up Lord Derby's organs. We must look at the prospect of war or peace in a "Bounderby" point of view, and any of our political "Bounderbies" who are anxious for "facts"—" facts that winna ding"—may have them to pick and choose from Here are samples them to pick and choose from. Here are samples. The infamous marriage of Clotilda with the worn-out roue of the Palais Royal, is at length consummated—patched up in haste, I should say—and it is not disputed that an alliance, offensive and defensive, with France, is the price Sardinia has exacted for the sacrifice. This is fact No. 1. Austria is in the English money-market, begging a loan of six millions—a very unpopular demand let me add. Fact 2. Sardinia wants cash also. Fact 3. France is arming to the teeth; has ordered home some 20,000 or 30,000 men from Algeria; is boasting that spring will see it with an efficient army of 672,000 men afoot. Fact 4. But why pursue the subject? There is something to be said in favor of peace chances, as, for example, that the great body of the French people are averse to war at present; that Austria is all but bankrupt; that Sardinia runs a fearful risk of annihilation; and that John Bull would give a trifle to see the horizon cleared up. But, then, all parties are in an attitude of strife, and the smallest spark, from the most unlooked for quarter, may fire the magazine, and—presto! Europe is in a blaze.—A Letter from London the best Boston and New York Planos and Melodeons. The largest assortment of Music Merchandize in the United States. Planos from five different manufacturers, of every variety of style—from those in plain rosewood cases, for $200, to those of the most elegant finish for $1000. No house in the Union can come in competition for the number, variety and celebrity of its instruments, nor the extremely low prices at which they are sold.

Herace Waters' Modern Improved Planos, with or without fron frames, have in their new scale an improved action, in power and compass of tone equaling the grand, with the beauty and durability of the square Plano. The Press and first Music-masters have justly pronounced them equal, if not superior, to any other make. They are guaranteed to stand the action of every climate.

Horace Waters' Melodeons (tune the equal temperament), superior in each desirable quality. Can also furnish
